PPE Supply Source

The Medical Association has been working with Jason Allman who is a practice administrator in Huntsville and has potentially found a source for much needed PPE. In working with the Medical Association, Jason has offered to open his source up to physicians across the state who are in need. Below is a letter from Jason to the medical community that he has asked us to share:

Dear Medical Community,

I am writing today to inform you there is some light at the end of the tunnel. Like many of your practices and facilities, we have been struggling to get basic necessities in order to treat our patients safely. Items like masks, hand sanitizer, gowns, gloves, etc. Today, I am excited to inform you we have found a source for various medical supplies. If you are in need of supplies I will be happy to add you to our order.

Simply email me a list of supplies and quantities you are looking for and I will reply promptly. Also, if you would like to speak with someone about your questions or concerns then add your contact name and direct number where you can be reached and we will call you back.

Please contact me by email only.

Stay safe and good luck.

Sincerely,

Jason Allman

Primary Providers of Alabama

The Medical Association is trying to assist providers in finding and locating Personal Protective Equipment (PPE). However, it has no indirect or direct business or financial relationship with Mr. Allman or any others in the production or supply chain. The Medical Association makes no representation about, and is not responsible for, the quality of the goods or PPE provided and encourages physicians interested in PPE to discuss these issues when ordering.

Chronic Care Management in the Coronavirus Pandemic

Some large practices outsource chronic care management and share the reimbursement. Whether the practice uses internal staff or outsourced staff, CCM services provide additional care and coordination to the most chronically ill. The patients receiving this service feel more connected to their provider and a change in their status is identified quickly. If the practice also has telemedicine, a non-face to face service can quickly become a face to face visit to address concerns. Due to the recent COVID-19 pandemic, these interactions could provide the care needed to protect the chronically ill from being exposed to the deadly virus.
